What were the Fund costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Fund Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Multi-Strategy Alternative Fund, Class Y Shares	$176	1.69%*

* The expense ratio includes dividend and interest expense, and other expenses outside the cap. Had this expense been excluded the ratios would have been 1.10%.

How did the Fund perform during the last 10 years?

Total Return Based on $100,000 Investment

How did the Fund perform in the last year?

Class Y Shares outperformed its benchmark, the ICE BofA U.S. 3-Month Treasury Bill Index, for the 12-month period ending September 30, 2025.

The Fund's gains during the reporting period were broad-based, with all underlying strategies and sub-advisers contributing positively to performance. The strongest performer over the period was the long/short equity strategy of Mountaineer Partners Management, LLC, which benefited from strong stock selection in metals and construction companies tied to the artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure build-out. In the relative value strategy, both Brigade Capital Management LP and Global Credit Advisers, LLC performed well due to good credit selection in the high-yield market and several successful restructurings. In the event-driven strategy, the Fund capitalized on a generally favorable merger arbitrage environment with few deal breaks. Despite posting a positive return, the weakest performer over the period was the equity strategy of Kettle Hill Capital Management LLC. The sub-adviser's consumer holdings were hampered by news of U.S. tariffs on imports early in 2025, and were slow to recover over the remainder of the reporting period.

The Fund's use of derivatives had no material impact on performance over the reporting period.
